

I Need to Improve My Creativity, Responsibility, and Solidarity

Maria Clara Carvalho

The values of the school are important to be a better person. I would like to improve the values creativity, responsibility and solidarity because I do not consider myself a creative person, for example. I can think of nothing. The only way I can be creative is with books. Responsibility because I consider myself responsible but not so much, because sometimes I lose something or forget something. I think being creative would help my future and my future job. Responsibility would also help a lot in my future, being more responsible, you have a better life. Solidarity because I help people but not as much as I should. Being more supportive is helping others and also helping yourself.

I would teach my children the values of responsibility, creativity, acceptance and respect. It is important to know these values because you need to be responsible with your materials, with the environment, with nature, you need to be responsible with many things. Creativity because it takes creativity to do work, to read a book, to be a fun person or to have imagination. Welcome because it is necessary and nice to welcome new people in a school, welcome someone who needs help, welcome someone who has no home, etc. Respect because it is necessary to have respect for all people regardless of race, gender, sexuality, ethnicity, etc. Respect is something that cannot be lacking in our life. You have to respect everything and everyone. Respecting different opinions is also important to be a good person.
